

Washout

Airman 1st Class Andrew Davis gets some help washing his eyes out after spending time in the gas chamber without his mask on during Liquid Hazard Stimulant Training. Davis was temporarily assigned to the First Term Airman Center before going to his official duty section at the 437th Equipment Maintenance Squadron. Airmen are assigned to the FTAC for two weeks and attend all of their In-processing appointments as a large group before being permanently assigned to their official units.
